

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Friday - 9 June 1972

Page 2

25X1 6. [] Discussed with Ed Braswell and Jim Woolsey, of the Senate Armed Services Committee staff, our concern about provisions of the Foreign Assistance Act which would transfer jurisdiction over military assistance 25X1 from the Armed Services Committee to the Foreign Relations Committee, cut off funds [] and reduce the ceiling on expenditures in Cambodia. I said we assume the Committee would have to look out for itself on the jurisdictional issue and we were not going to take the initiative on the 25X1 Cambodian issue because we didn't have as much at stake there as other agencies.

[]
Braswell and Woolsey said Stennis had his hands full with other issues such as the Mansfield amendment and in any event would find it difficult to fight 25X1 [] unless we "took off the wraps" and allowed him to speak frankly about their actual role. I said we'd see if we could come up with an unclassified statement which could serve the purpose. Braswell said what was 25X1 needed was an "impact statement" which would emphasize the serious consequences [] at this critical juncture.

25X1 7. [] Called Tom Korologos, in the White House, regarding the problems with the Foreign Assistance Act mentioned above. He said he 25X1 had gotten Senator Gordon Allott to lead the fight regarding the Cambodian ceiling and was trying to get Stennis to assume responsibility for provisions [] 25X1 [] I explained Stennis' problem as I understood it and asked Korologos whether we shouldn't try to get someone else to take up the fight such as Milton Young, Howard Baker, or Jake Javits.. Korologos said we shouldn't do anything until we hear from them because they were starting a big meeting on the whole thing in the White House.

25X1 8. [] Bill Miller, of Senator John Sherman Cooper's (R., Ky.) office, called to say the Senator was interested in any comments on the New York Times story quoting Laird on Soviet MIRV tests. I said we didn't know what the Secretary had said, but on the basis of intelligence estimates available it appeared that the press story was garbled and that the Defense Department would be the people to straighten it out.

25X1 9. [] Called Dorothy Fosdick, in Senator Jackson's office, to say that we had no evidence supporting some of the points made in a New York Times story attributed to testimony by Secretary Laird. I speculated the story was the result of a garble and suggested the people to straighten it out was the Defense Department since they knew what the Secretary had said and we didn't.

SECRET